Why Treaties Matter

Self-Government
in the Dakota and Ojibwe Nations

Why Treaties Matter: Self-Government in the Dakota and Ojibwe Nations is a traveling exhibition that helps establish American Indian sovereignty as an ongoing continental reality and provides a vehicle for all Minnesotans to learn new and innovative ways to create community, build sustainable systems, and relate to one another.

The Civil War Watertown Area Soldiers

March 10 – April 13

Kick-off Saturday, March 10th at the CCHS 10:30-2:30

11:00 am- Presentation about August Lange and his regiment.

Enjoy Civil War era cookies and refreshments
Hosted by the Watertown Area Historical Society,

The exhibit depicts roughly 100 soldiers who participated in the Civil War, often leaving families at home in very primitive conditions. This was because Watertown, itself, had only been established in 1856 and was on “the frontier.”

Come learn about the sacrifice the men (and women) of this area made to preserve our country, one nation, under God, indivisible, from sea to shining sea.

Tour of Civil War Battlefields, Rock & Roll, and More

What: Tour Civil War battle sites, President Lincoln’s Presidential Library, Graceland, Beale Street and the hotel where Martin Luther King, Jr. was shot.

When: April 14-April 22

For more information contact: Travel Easy or Jim/Joyce Hinderks 952-935-1533 $25 from each ticket will be donated to the CCHS

The History of the Watertown Minnesota Area 1856 to 2006

After many requests to republish her Watertown history book, Charlotte Johnson has finally updated and republished her history book of the Watertown area. Only 50 of these books have been reprinted. If you would like to purchase a book please either call the author, at 952-955-3546 or email her at charlotte-mary@charter.net. The cost for the book is $150. The CCHS has one copy available to review before purchase.
